This document outlines the lot coding scheme for Boveda pouch production. This format supersedes previous formats and will be implemented into production as of 1/1/2022. Lot codes are printed in-line on the reverse of the pouch during pouch filling. Lot codes are 7 characters long.

Sample Lot Codes:

P22N072
P22G003
B22F007
D22J010

Description of Lot Code Elements:

The first position is a single character designating the production location. Below is the list of production locations and their codes as of Jan 2022:

Production Location	Location Code
███████████████	█
████████████	█
█████████	█
Birchwood - Eden Prairie	B

The second two digits indicate the year of production, ie '22' for year '2022'.

The third position is a character indicating the formula. Below is the list of formulas and their codes.

If during the course of a year a formula is changed, a new designator will be assigned to the formula and the batch mix will reset to '001'.

The final position is the sequential batch mix for that formula for the year. At the beginning of each year the number resets to '001'. Pad all numbers to 3 digits in length.

Ie: Third mix of batch x would be designated by "003".
Ie: 151st mix of batch x would be designated by "151".
